

Sunny greetings from Biogreen!

While the sun is in full swing, Biogreen feels the heat!

During summer time we've been working on many exciting projects we'd like to tell you about. Here's the quick roundup of what's been going on in our company during last summer months.

Hope you enjoyed the vacation breeze as much as we did! We'd love to hear the news on your side of the screen. Do not hesitate to contact us!

What's new in ETIA

New Biogreen plant launched in USA! See the movie.

We've been working hard on commissioning a new torrefaction unit in USA. Now we are proud to present you the result - a complete industrial and continuous plant that produces solid fuel by processing wet biomass to solid torrefied brisket.

Presentation movie is now available on-line!

Biogreen Africa new website

We are excited to promote Biogreen solutions in African market. That's why we've prepared a brand new website for visitors interested in managing municipal and biomass waste in Africa. If you'd like to get involved or just share your thoughts, visit us at: <http://www.biogreen-africa.com>

ETIA Group now online

Our Group is growing up! Did you ever tried to find out in what industries we are involved in? Now you can see it all presented in one brief landing page.

Feel free to visit and see our our capabilities presented at:
